

The Guitar Guys is a string ensemble based in Toronto playing contemporary pop music arrangements on acoustic instruments enhanced with amplification. The classic warm string sound with fresh experience is our innovation. We are classically trained musicians teaching and working with numerous classical and pop ensembles in the Toronto area. Some of us had the opportunity to perform with Josh Groban, and the Trans-Siberian Orchestra several times at the Air Canada Center in Toronto. The Guitar Guys incorporate rhythm effects, and improvisation to its performance, that creates an always revolving, spontaneous performance. It's all about creativity and energy we bring into our shows.
